Ruth Snyder, Gray Deathly Pale as They are Flayed

Attorney Newcombe Baldly and Bluntly Pictures Alleged Slaying of Albert Snyder by Wife and Her Corset Salesman Lover

BROTHER OF SLAIN ART EDITOR ON STAND

Buttality of Murder Recited Before Jurors; Trial Late in Getting Started as Judge Quizzes Various Persons
Connected with Long Island Case

LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., April 25—"They entered his room in the dead of night—they struck him with an iron rod—they tied picture wire around his neck—they choked him."

Baldly, bluntly, and without attempt at adornment, District Attorney Richard S. Newcombe thus presented to a jury the alleged killing of Albert Snyder, home-loving husband, by his wife, Ruth Brown Snyder, and her corset salesman lover, Henry Judd Gray.

"Both of them later confessed," continued the district attorney, while the icy eyes of the widow never wavered from him. "We will introduce their confessions at this trial."

Both Deathly Pale
Both Mrs. Snyder and Gray, sitting to feel apart, were deathly pale as the droning voice of the district attorney spelled out to the jury the details of what has been characterized the most bizarre and revolting crime of a decade.
Her pale, however, was that of icy composure. Gray was visibly agitated.
Newcombe's address to the jury was a complete story of the crime, related in a blunt, matter-of-fact manner which accentuated its horrible aspects. He spelled out to the jury the intimate details of the Snyder-Snyder murder trial.
He told the growth of their affair, and how finally they determined to put the unsuspecting husband out of the way, and their elaborate precautions against being caught.

Brother Takes Stand
Immediately after Newcombe completed his address, Warren Schneider, brother of the slain Albert Snyder, took the stand, as the first witness. He spelled his name with the old family spelling. He was the first outsider to identify the body for the police.

Court was late in getting started.

DAVID BELASCO
AT SNYDER TRIAL

Court House, Long Island City,
N. Y., April 25—David Belasco, famous theatrical impresario, is the latest celebrity to appear at the Snyder-Gray murder trial. He came into the court room today for the first time and attracted much attention. He took a seat among the first row of spectators.

The gray-haired dramatist was a his coat and a high clerical collar, and was greatly interested in the proceeding.

In the case went to the chambers of Judge Townsend Scudder. There had been a rumor that one of the jurors had attended a theater party in New York Saturday night during which the Snyder trial was discussed in his presence. Judge Scudder admitted the matter had been brought to his attention.
The jurors were not in the court room while the conference was going on.

Question Reported
That the matter of alleged irregularity on the part of at least one juror was under discussion in the judge's chamber was further indicated when it was learned that 60 talesmen when it was brought subject to call.

The conference still was in progress at 10:40 a. m. 30 minutes after the four when court was scheduled to have started.

Arthur Mefford, a reporter was called into the conference. Mefford wrote a story stating that William E. Young, foreman of the jury, his wife, and two women friends were guests at a theater party Saturday night in New York at which the Snyder trial was mentioned. This paper also stated that Judge Scudder might attribute to Mrs.
Charles B. Mefford, wife of the second juror, who was quoted as having expressed her opinion.

Governor Donahoe Disapproves of Two New Measures

Columbus, April 25—Veto by Governor Donahoe today of two measures enacted at the present session of the Ohio legislature were announced at the governor's office.

The bill receiving the governor's disapproval are:

By Senator F. W. K. Tom, Toledo, providing for abandonment of canal and hydraulic purposes, of that two-thirds of the canal in point in Lorain County lying between a point just south of the head of the Maumee side of the canal, and the intersection of the canal with the Maumee River, in Providence Township, Lucas
County, and by Rep. A. M. Streicher, Toledo, providing for election of an additional common pleas judge in Lucas County.

$4,000 LOSS SUSTAINED
IN E. CENTER-ST FIRE

S. R. Ronk Home Badly Damaged; Passersby Rescue Woman

Fire starting from sparks on a shingle roof did $4,000 damage at the S. R. Ronk home, 1033 E. Center-st., at 10:32 o'clock Sunday evening. When discovered by neighbors who phoned in the alarm, the entire roof was afire.
The loss is estimated at $3,000 for the house and $1,000 for the contents, all partly covered by insurance.

The Ronk family together with the daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs.
E. M. Humes, were at home at the time. Mr. Humes works as a night brakeman on the Erie railroad, was in bed and was awakened by members of the family, and escaped amid a shower of sparks as a portion of the roof crashed through the partly burned ceiling.

Miss Ronk, who recently returned from the City Hospital where she had undergone an operation and who was in bed on the first floor was carried to a neighboring house by passersby. The entire roof and a part of the second floor were destroyed before the blaze was brought under control by firemen from the central station. The fire was the fourth since Saturday caused by sparks on a shingle roof.

Indiana Man Accepts
CALL OF SALEM CHURCH

Rev. G. A. Kanzler Takes Local Charge; Edifice To Be Repaired

Rev. G. A. Kanzler, pastor of two churches in Wapakoneta, Ind., accepted the call to the pastorate of Salem Eu-angelical Church issued by unanimous vote of the congregation of the church at a business meeting following the church service last night.

Reverend Kanzler expects to take up his duties here within the next three months, or as soon as some settlement is made regarding his present charges in Wapakoneta. He will be accompanied here by his wife and four children.

Both services yesterday were conducted by Reverend Kanzler and both were unusually well-attended. Last night he preached from the text, "Fear not, for I am with thee," while his morning sermon was in German.

Church members are planning to remodel and repair the church in the near future. A complete new furnace system will be installed, new Sunday School room added and redecorating will be done about the interior of the church proper. No definite arrangements have been made for the work, however.

M'DONALD BETTER

Former British Prime Minister May Leave Hospital Shortly

Philadelphia, April 25—The condition of Ramsay MacDonald, former prime minister of Great Britain, was "much improved" today, according to Jefferson Hospital authorities. The former British labor minister was taken to the hospital Saturday suffering from a cold which had affected his throat.
He is expected to leave the hospital
within a few days.

Isabel MacDonald, who is accompanying her father, left for New York yesterday to keep his engagements.

$50,000 SUIT FILED AGAINST BUCYRUS YOUTH

Arrested Few Hours Before on Charges of Reckless Driving

FINED IN LOCAL COURT

Clarence B. Schoofield, 21, and Father, Dr. E. R. Schoolfield, Defendants

Automobile driving is apparently a troublesome undertaking for Clarence B. Schoofield, 21, of Bucyrus, who was arrested here Saturday night on a reckless driving charge, and is also defendant in a $50,000 damage suit filed in the Marion County Court of Common Pleas
this morning. The threat of a collision in which he is said to have figured on June 13, 1925.

When arrested on N. Main-st., Saturday night, young Schoofield is alleged to have been piloting his car at between 15 and 20 miles an hour and according to the story related in the damage suit petition, filed today, his speed averaged about the same when the 1925 accident occurred.

Pay $10 Fine
Schoofield paid a fine of $10 and costs in Municipal Court this morning on the charge of exceeding the speed limit.

The $50,000 damage suit was filed against him and his father, Dr. E. R.
Schoofield, by Miss Marie Rohrer of Akron, who claims that her vocal powers were destroyed as the result of injuries sustained when young Schoofield's car crashed into her machine on the Bucyrus road, two miles north of Marion, on June 13, 1925.

It is on the alleged loss of her voice that Miss Rohrer bases the larger part of her claim for $50,000 damages. She says that for several years prior to the accident, she had spent much time and money in vocal training with the intention of becoming a singer.

Akron Attorney
Miss Rohrer, whose suit was filed through Schwab & Heiser, an Akron law firm, relates in her petition that she was driving north toward Bucyrus at the rate of about 15 miles an hour when the crash occurred. Young Schoofield, coming from the opposite direction at a speed estimated by Miss Rohrer at 50 miles an hour attempted to pass a car driven by C. H. Whysall of this city and in doing so crashed headlong into the Rohrer machine.

Miss Rohrer says that she was thrown into the ditch by the force of the collision and that her injuries resulted in a fractured rib, chest lacerations, and cracked vertebrae, which brought on subnormal blood pressure and impairment of her voice.

At the time of the accident, Miss Rohrer says, Schoofield was a minor and his father is named as a party defendant for that reason. She charges that the father is responsible for the damage, due to the son being under legal age and an incompetent driver.

Miss Rohrer's address is given as 225 Buckeye-st., Akron, and the Schoofield address as 225 E. Meigs-st., Bucyrus.

URGES RECOGNITION OF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

Ex-Governor Nellie Ross, Wyoming, Appeals to Democratic Women

Washington, April 25—Ex-Governor Nellie Ross of Wyoming today called upon the Democratic party to "demonstrate that it stands foursquare upon the principle of religious freedom which was the chief cornerstone upon which this government was built."

In a speech to the National Women's Democratic Club, she said:

"I am a Protestant materially by birth and conviction, and yet I should like to see a well-qualified Catholic elected to the highest office in the nation just to prove that this is, in reality, a republic in which we live and not one in name only."

"I do not desire to see the influence of any one of the various heresies of American citizenship any declaration by policy or practice that proscribe rather than liberal principles shall prevail in this government."

"I am not desiring even to suggest to your minds any particular candidate; certainly not to urge the qualifications of any particular candidate."

It is only the principle involved in this subject that I would emphasize.

"It looks now as if a leading issue that is going to face us as Democrats this year is whether or not a Catholic can be nominated for the presidency by the Democratic party. It is an issue that cannot be dodged or evaded. Distasteful as it is to us all, it is well to have it brought out into the open. I think I hope the Democratic women will sanction no policy that deprives any person in the United States of full rights and privileges because of his religious affiliations."

ELMER B. FIDLER, 49 IS VICTIM OF INDIGESTION

Stricken Following Illness of One Hour; Funeral To Be Wednesday

Elmer B. Fidler, 49, salesman for the Bradley-Boyer Lumber Co., Bay City, Mich., died at 3:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home, 408 E. Center-st., following an hour's illness of acute indigestion.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at his late home and at 2:30 o'clock at the church of St. John the Evangelist, Bay City, Mich., where he was a member.

Mr. Fidler was born in Newman, Ill.,
Feb. 12, 1878, the son of Martha Watkins and Levi E. Fidler. He married to Mabel Fidler, who survives, on September 1, 1904, at Grandview, Ill.

He had lived in Marion since 1914, coming here from Grandview, Ill., where he was affiliated with a retail lumber co. He was prominent in local circles, having been a member of Marion Lodge No. 10, Free and Accepted Masons, Marion Commandery,
No. 36, Knights Templar and the Alpha Triangle Shrine at Columbus. He was also a member of Epworth M. E.
Church and of the Modern Woodmen's Association of America.

Surviving with his wife are his father, Levi E. Fidler of Detroit; one daughter, Mabel Helen M. Fidler, student at Ohio Northern University;
two sons, Elmer B. Fidler, at home, and Wendell B. Fidler, student at Ohio State University, Columbus.

Also surviving are Mrs. L. B. Cook of San Antonio, Tex., and Mrs. G. F. Taylor and Mrs. William Norris of Detroit, two daughters. Elmer Fidler of Detroit, and Frank, Arthur and Harley Fidler, all of Paris, Ill.

ONE KILLED AND THREE WOUNDED IN QUARREL

Yorkville Confectioner Dies Instantly, While Woman Is Expected To Succumb

Marion Ferry, April 25—One is dead, one is reported dying and two are suffering serious bullet wounds at City Hospital here today as the result of a domestic quarrel. Peter Gallagher, 27, Yorkville confectioner, was shot and instantly killed last night,
police report, as he sat in the kitchen
of his aunt, Mrs. Mary Thomas.

Mrs. Thomas and her 19-year-old daughter, Gollie, were shot by George Thomas, 52, estranged husband, who then turned one of his pistols upon himself.

Hospital authorities reported
Thomas may recover but his wife's condition is expected to prove fatal.
Gollie Thomas was shot through the month, and will recover. A son of the estranged couple, escaped by running from the scene, while a married daughter turned off the lights and resued injury.

The entire party had just returned to the home of Mrs. Thomas after attending Easter services at a Greek church.

were used.

Need $10,000,000 for Flood Relief Declares Hoover

Never Before Has Nation Faced Undertaking of Such Proportion, Asserts Cabinet Member Sent into South by President Coolidge

DEAD IN SEVEN STATES ESTIMATED AT 130

Hundred and Fifty Thousand Persons Already Homeless or Dependent Upon Relief Agencies for Food; May Need Care for as Much as Six Weeks

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 25—Five million dollars will "barely do half the job" set out for the Red Cross in the Mississippi flood-stricken area, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover said today after a preliminary survey of the urgent tasks already facing the mobilized forces.

At least $10,000,000 will be needed for a work which will require maintenance of the emergency agencies along a thousand miles of river front between St. Louis and New Orleans, he said.

"Never before have we faced an understanding of such proportion," Hoover said after consulting with Harry M.
Baker, national director of Red Cross disaster relief.

Baker, who has been in Memphis for several days co-ordinating with army, navy, public health and Red Cross activities throughout the entire flooded region, gave Secretary Hoover his latest reports from the 34 Red Cross concentration points along the river below Cairo, Ill.

With the crest of the flood still to reach the lower Mississippi, today's reports to Hoover showed estimated dead of at least 130 in seven states, with 150,000 already homeless or dependent upon relief agencies for food.

May Need Help Long
Hoover's experience in famine relief throughout Europe during the war enabled him to appraise the situation in 15 minutes' conversation with Baker.

"Many of these homeless will have to be cared for by relief organizations for as much as six weeks," Hoover said.

"There are already more than 100, 000 known to be pressing for aid at concentration camps and local relief stations. Feeding and housing this multitude alone for a single month, even without hospitalization and medicine, would tax the present visible resources of the Red Cross."

Hoover spent most of the time enroute from Washington, checked with Major Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, studying details of the topography in the flooded region with a view to directing the convention of major forces at the most vulnerable points along the river below Vicksburg.

Still Unknown Crest
The dimensions of this flood are increased by the fact that the volume of water now passing Vicksburg is a little over 2,000,000 cubic feet a second," Hoover said.

"There still is a crest of unknown volume in the Missouri River between Cairo and St. Louis, which will require a week or 10 days to travel to the channel. There is, in addition, the unmeasured volume in the Ohio from recent rainfalls throughout the upper Mississippi valley, which also flows down
Ohio Valley, which also flows down upon the already overtaxed levees of Louisiana and Mississippi.

"We are hoping fervently that these two crests from the tributaries do not strike the same channel simultaneously.
If they do, the other there may be only a slight further rise at Baton Rouge, Savannah and New Orleans. Should they reach Vicksburg together, we do not know what would happen."

Sweeping before it death and destruction, the rampant Mississippi River today had added 20 deaths to the toll of life and flooded several additional towns during the past 24 hours.
Total toll during the past 24 hours
for 150,000 refugees.

Red Cross directors have established the greatest relief expedition in recent years. Contributions are pouring in from all parts of the country in caring for 150,000 refugees.

Collapsing of a house, harboring 16
negroes four miles north of Greenville,
Miss., yesterday sent all of the negroes to a horrible death. Three others died of disease at Greenville, due to the floods, one of pneumonia, one of mumps and a third of exposure. A white man was drowned at Pine Bluff, Ark.

The 20 additional deaths during the last 24 hours have brought the death toll of the greatest flood in the history of the Mississippi River up to approximately 130.

About 10,000,000 acres of farmlands are under water as a result of the floods. Army engineers, after a survey, announced that 6,000,000 acres are flooded in Arkansas and Mississippi alone.

Damage to crops will run into millions of dollars. The engineers said that 9,000 square miles in Mississippi and Arkansas were all under water.
The engineers who have not checked
the flooded areas of Tennessee, Missouri, Kentucky and Louisiana say the total loss will probably be about 10,000,000 acres when the final tabulation is made.

J. S. Allen, levee engineer at Greenville, Miss., declared today that 200 is a small estimate for the flood's toll of lives.

LEAGUE ADJOURNS

Commission Fails To Finish Work On Control of Arms

Geneva, April 25—The special League of Nations commission preparing an agenda for the international control of arms and their manufacture, attended today, without having completed its work.

Italy announced it opposed the control of government manufacture of married at 2 p. m. Saturday, only to have her disappear within a few hours,

according to his story to detectives.
Hudson said he met the girl about a week ago.

Sensation Caused in Chicago
Social Circles by Report of Wedding

New York, April 25—A sensation was caused in society circles today by the revelation that Cyrus H. McCormick of Chicago, multi-millionaire chairman of the board of the International Harvester Co., had secretly married his secretary, Miss Alice M. Holt, at Dublin, N. H., last Friday. McCormick is 48; his bride is said to be about 40. The couple sailed Friday night for Europe.

On the return of the couple to this country they will reside in the McCormick mansion in Chicago.

McCormick's first wife, who was Harriet Hammond, died in 1921, after a long illness. She was prominent in many philanthropic projects.

It is understood that two sons will join the father and step-mother in Europe in a few weeks.

MARION URGED TO CO-OPERATE IN OBSERVANCE

Forest Week Being Given Recognition Throughout Country; Ends Saturday

"The disastrous experience of China and other lands which have been virtually denuded of forest, should warn America to protect and perpetuate its timber resources."

This statement was made today by William Lusch, vice president of the Marion Lumber Co., local representative of the Order of Ho-Ho-Ho, in appealing for an enthusiastic local observance of Forest Week which started yesterday and will close Saturday.

Ho-Ho-Ho is the international fraternal order of lumbermen which is sponsoring the friends of the forest educational movement.

"We read every year of disastrous floods in China that take thousands of lives," Mr. Lusch said. "Why do they occur? Because the trees have gone and there is nothing on the hillsides along the waterways to hold back the rains. That is a normal function of trees—to form a spongy turf which holds the moisture back and regulate its flow into the streams."

Mud is Top Soil
"News dispatches tell us of China rivers that become muddy torrents. This mud is the fertile topsoil which is essential to the growing of farm crops—and without the protection of trees it is washed into the streams."

"When this constant washing goes on for years, once fertile lands become deserts—barren wastes from which even the wild things shy. It is authoritatively said that the Sahara one was a forest of magnificent trees, and in some sections of this country we have seen said deserts and stretches of waste land replace timbered areas."

"To try to put a problem of growing trees so that we will always have an adequate supply of lumber and wood, although it is vitally essential that we have abundant wood for the thousands of ways in which we use it every day. It is just as much a problem of keeping our streams pure, our farm lands fertile, our outdoor beautiful, and of preventing the extinction of wild life."

THREE DEAD AND DOZEN INJURED IN CLEVELAND

Streetcar Conductor Killed Instantly by Driver of Speeding Automobile

Cleveland, April 25.—Traffic police Sunday took a toll of three lives in Cleveland, while at least a dozen persons were more or less seriously injured.

Sidney S. Maltz, 57, streetcar conductor, was killed instantly when hurled 30 feet by a speeding auto, while he was returning to his car, after signalling its passage over a railroad crossing. The driver of the auto did not stop.

James Spagnoli, 17, died in a hospital last night after he had been thrown from his auto and fatally injured, when the wheels of the machine locked.

Frank Kretzek, 70, died Sunday afternoon from injuries sustained when he was knocked down by a truck late Saturday.

LOCAL PHYSICIANS TO ATTEND STATE MEETING

Annual Conference of Ohio Medical Association To Be Held in Columbus

Dr. B. D. Osborn, of Waldo, and Dr. C. L. Baker, this city, have been chosen delegate and alternate to represent the Marion County Medical Society at the eighty-first annual meeting of the Ohio State Medical Association which will be held May 10, 11 and 12 at the Nod House, Columbus. A number of local surgeons and physicians are planning to attend the meeting which will be held for the first time in 50 years in Columbus, where the organization was founded in 1846.

More than 100 Ohio physicians and eight out-of-state physicians will take part in the program. Business affairs will include meetings of the house of delegates, general sessions, election of officers, several annual golf tournaments, clinics, fraternity and college receptions and numerous social activities. Dr. L. O. Bowers, of Dayton, will retire as president of the association, and will be succeeded by Dr. L. L. Bouslog, of Columbus.

Dr. James W. McMurray is president of the local organization and Dr. Herman S. Rho is secretary.

Health Considered Important Factor In Work Accomplished By School Pupils

Does size determine ability? Is health a factor in the accomplishment of a number of pupils in the school? This is a question that has been asked by the school authorities as well as by the pupils themselves.

On that note, the school authorities, who are interested in the health of the pupils, are doing all they can to make the school a place where the pupils can get the best of health as well as the best of education.

If they are heavy, too heavy, they are prone to be easy going and lazy, teachers say, while on the other hand the thin, nervous students frequently overwork bringing on nervous breakdowns and consequent absence from school.

The brilliant students are generally those of normal weight with good health, and thus the reason for health campaigns in the schools.

There is this to be said for the overweight student, teachers claim, they are usually agreeable and easy going, that some nervous being is a rule that chief difficulty in studying.

Although the toothy nervous student will undertake his studies with a zest, when school opens, he is often worn out before the year is half over.

Even though students are not permitted such liberties, in considering their prospective teacher, still, on that same first day of appraisal if the new teacher be overly plump they know the school year is to be pleasant and not too difficult as well as profitable, with the teacher as they know they are to be all proceeds from what he says, to be forced to study hard that if "teacher" be of the athletic type, light, slenderly built and in

Washington Cold to Tieup With Other Powers in China

Government Believes "Joint Action" in China Can Be Easily Abused

BY CHARLES E. STEWART
WASHINGTON, April 25.—John A. MacMurray, American minister in Peking, is a diplomat of long experience, especially versed in Oriental affairs.

Most of American consultants in China are old hands. General Davis, until recently at Nanking was born there.

Yet the state department, every time it has to act in the pending Chinese crisis, has shown a disposition to throw off a liberal discount from the record.

JOHN A. MACMURRAY

NOBODY questions that MacMurray and the American consul, the other foreigners in China, thoroughly understand the old Chinese diplomatic game.

What makes the state department uneasy is that they all seem to be playing the same old game now, and the state department has a hunch that the rules have been changed.

If so, it may appear that MacMurray and the rest who actually act "without me," ought to know it better than anybody else.

"The state department" isn't so sure. It has an idea that, as a bystander, it may see more of what's going on than the participants, each with his whole attention riveted on his own immediate next play.

THAT was, up to 12 or 15 years ago, when China would stand anything rather than fight.

Consequently, when the "powers" wanted anything from the Chinese, they'd say, "Now let's all stick together and put in a joint demand, promising the Chinese a whole lot of kicking if they don't come around."

It was perfectly safe, because the Chinese always did come around. Occasionally they were a little balky, but a few gunboats and one or two regiments of marines invariably brought 'em to line.

ONE of these "situations" has arisen now.

The Chinese revolution's getting tireless. It hurts foreign trade. It threatens more foreign losses yet. The interior of the country, in fact, isn't safe. It's in just such a turmoil as Europe was in 1914-18.

Joint action by the "powers" is being strongly urged.

Washington always has been suspicious of "joint action" in China.

The Washington government doesn't question its duty to look after nationals, but it has traditionally regarded "joint action" in dealing with the Chinese as a method which leads itself to abuse. It doesn't disguise that it feels the same way now.

But the "powers" representatives in China have been doing their best, in "sell" to American representatives there the idea that this is the time when a "joint demand" on the Chinese is imperative.

WHAT sticks in the state department's craw is this: When the "powers" used to make demands, they didn't care whether America was in on 'em or not, simply because they knew there wouldn't be a fight anyway, so they wouldn't need anybody to help.

Two time there's about a 50-50 chance of a scrap, in which case, with the "powers" out back and

"We're too poor to lend to this part of the job, so we leave it to you, partner, to lick the Chinese."

WASHINGTON'S hopeful of settling everything amicably, playing a one hand.

Hence its coolness toward its representatives' hints at the desirability of a book up with the British, the French, the Italians and the Japanese.

COUNTY OFFICIALS TAKE BONDS TO CINCINNATI

County Surveyor C. R. Leavens and County Clerk T. A. O'Leary went to Cincinnati today to deliver an issue of bonds amounting to $22,042, sold recently to the President Savings Bank & Trust Co. The issue is for nine years and was sold on a five per cent interest basis.

Moneys from the sale of bonds is to be used in financing construction of the East River Cardington-nd, contract for which has been awarded to the firm of Anshin & Carey of Kenton. The construction work is expected to start in the near future.

SUIT AGAINST A. WASHBURN IS APPEALED

Decision in Error in $10,000
Damage Action Filed in Upper Court

A decision in error was filed in the court of appeals this morning in connection with a $10,000 damage suit against A. Washburn, filed in the Marion County Court of Appeals. The suit was brought by the estate of a woman who died in a fire at her home in Marion, Mo., on April 1, 1931.

The woman, who was 83 years of age, was residing at the time of the fire at her home in Marion, Mo., on April 1, 1931. The fire was caused by a gas stove which was left burning unattended. The woman was not at home at the time of the fire.

The suit was brought by the estate of the woman, who was represented by the firm of Carhart & Warner. The suit was for damages of $10,000. The court of appeals has affirmed the decision of the Marion County Court of Appeals.

DESPONDENCY CAUSE OF FARMER HANGING SELF

Body of David E. Patrick, 57, Found in Barn Near Summersville

Richmond, April 23.—Despondency following the death of his wife two years ago was given as the cause for David E. Patrick, 57, York township farmer, near Summersville, cutting his throat and hanging himself in the barn on his farm yesterday noon. The body was found several hours later.

David Elmer Patrick was born August 28, 1876, near Broadway, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Patrick. Until two months ago he was employed as a general superintendent of the Union County Children's Home near Marysville.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Edward Irwin, and Mrs. Rose Engle, both of near Summersville and Pauline Patrick, Marysville. One son preceded Mr. Patrick in death.

Funeral services will be held from the Friends' Church, Summersville, Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Burial will be made at Summersville.

COUPLE PLEAD GUILTY TO DISORDERLY CONDUCT

"Dance Hall Argument Culminates in Family Free-for-All Fight

An argument begun in a local dance hall and which waxed warmer and became a free-for-all fight when the family returned to their home, resulted in the arrest at 1:30 Sunday morning of the entire John George family, 488 S. Broadway.

The family were booked at the police station as John George, 42, Elmer George, 38, Elsie George, 11 and Vernel George, 10. The children were taken to the Bain Detention home while their parents were confined in the county jail. John was released Sunday on a $50 bond for his appearance this morning.

When arraigned before Judge Martin in Municipal court this morning the parents pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct and were fined $10 and costs each. The costs were suspended on payment of the fines. Arrangements to pay the fines were being made today.

days, it is stated. Last night several donations from this city were announced from a station at Columbus where the entire night's broadcasting, continuing more than five hours, was taken up with making appeals for the flood relief.

No Quota Set

No definite quota for this city has been set, the allotment for Ohio not having been fixed at the time of the Marion conference, held in Columbus yesterday. Following the conference Herbert Hoover, state legion commander, left for national legion headquarters at Indianapolis to obtain detailed information and he is expected to send instructions immediately to the various posts under his jurisdiction.

"I do not believe it is necessary for Marion to have any definite quota announced in order to raise a large fund here," Jones stated today. "This city, I am sure, can be counted upon to do its part by contributing an amount which will be a credit to the community and show that it is ready to open its purse in a time of emergency like this."

Aid of other local organizations is to be requested. The appeal was to be carried to members of the Rotary Club at their weekly noon luncheon today and will also be presented to the Kiwanis Club later in the week. Lodges, clubs and churches are also asked to line up in support of the movement.

The Legion conference at Columbus yesterday was attended by Jones and several other members of the local post. It was called primarily to discuss plans for a district membership campaign but arrangements for launching the flood relief drive also took up a large part of the time.

NATION RESPONDS TO AID APPEAL

Washington, April 25.—The nation is responding generously to the appeal of the Red Cross for funds for flood relief. It was announced at headquarters today that approximately $1,000,000 has already been obtained. The minimum goal is $5,000,000.

During the absence of Acting Chairman James J. Fieser, George E. Scott of Chicago, one of the war time leaders of the Red Cross, is in charge of national headquarters. He arrived here this morning to begin his duties. Fieser is on a trip through the flood area with Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Henry M. Baker, Red Cross director of relief, has established temporary general relief headquarters in Memphis.

pressed sympathy to Mrs. Snyder and sympathy for the slain man.

All kinds of rumors went the rounds as the conference proceeded. These included the possibility of the judge declaring a mistrial and granting a change of venue and the possibility that he might order examination of witnesses to fill the places of any jurors he might excuse.

Remove Witnesses

The conference ended at 11:00. The jury, led by William E. Young, the foreman, filed into the jury box and took their seats.

There was a wait of five minutes. Judge Scudder came to the bench at 11:05 a. m. and court was called.

Mrs. Snyder, in black as usual, came into court with a rapid stride and sat at her counsel's table. Gray sat among his lawyers.

The names of the jurors were called and all responded "here."

Attorney Edgar Hamilton moved "on behalf of the defendant Snyder" that all witnesses in the case be removed from the courtroom until they are needed. Justice Scudder granted the motion.

District Attorney Newcombe began his address to the jury at 11:10 o'clock.

Snyder Old-Fashioned

"Gentlemen of the jury," began Newcombe, "the defendants, Ruth Snyder and David Gray have been indicted for murder in the first degree with premeditation on March 20 last, just five weeks ago."

"The dead man was of the old-fashioned type. He liked to stay about home, fix his automobile and do things about the house."

"Mrs. Snyder liked gaiety. She liked to go around, and not getting guests from Albert Snyder she sought it elsewhere."

"She met the defendant Gray—in April or May, 1932."

"After a time the relations of Mrs. Snyder and Gray became intimate. They would go to the Imperial and Waldorf Hotels in New York, where they registered as Mr. and Mrs. Gray. That continued until February, this year."

"The blond woman co-defendant, sitting alert and tense at her counsel's table, regarded Newcombe with icy frigidity. The only time her eyes left the district attorney's face was when she swiftly glanced at the jury to see the effect upon them. Her face was tense and she clenched and unclenched her hands."

Six Months

Gray sat motionless in his chair, his head bowed as the district attorney's ringing indictment beat into his ears.

"The time came when Albert Snyder was more and more in the way as the relations of his wife and Gray progressed," the district attorney continued.

"Finally, they started to discuss ways and means of getting him out of the way."

"In October of 1932, Albert Snyder, who received $115 a week, decided to take out life insurance. He took a $10,000 policy."

"Without his consent, there was written on his life two policies aggregating $50,000. Mrs. Snyder was named as the beneficiary. The policy provided if he was killed by robbers, it was accidental death and Mrs. Snyder would collect double indemnity."

Slated for Death

Then, smashing a fist into the palm of his hand, Newcombe declared: "The state will show you, gentlemen of the jury, that Albert Snyder was slated for killing on March 7, 1932."

Newcombe told the jury that Gray was in Kingston, N. Y., on March 4.

"At that place Gray bought the sash weight and the chloroform with which Mrs. Snyder was killed," said the district attorney.

Newcombe told the jury that after Gray bought the sash weight and chloroform in Kingston, he brought them to New York and took them to Henry's restaurant in Manhattan.

"Mrs. Snyder met Gray at Henry's and he gave her the sash weight in that restaurant on the day."

"When she came to meet her lover,"

Slain in Capitol

she brought with her her little three-year-old daughter Lorraine.

Says Death Planned

"She took this sash weight to her home for the deliberate purpose of killing her husband."

"I don't know whether it was an act of Providence or fate, but at any rate Albert Snyder was permitted to live a couple of days more. The next day, March 8, Gray went on the road."

"But the plan to kill Snyder was in their hearts and they fixed the night of March 19 for the murder."

"On the night of March 19," said Newcombe, "Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Snyder's mother, was away on a case as practical nurse. The defendant Snyder told the defendant Gray that and planned his alibi that he thought was invincibly foolproof, sure fire."

Gave Husband Drink

"Mrs. Snyder advised him that the side door of the home would be open and it was open, that the sash weight would be under the pillow of Mrs. Brown's room. He entered the house and there under the pillow he found the sash weight, a pair of pliers and some liquor. And then he sat and waited the return of his fellow-murderer and that poor devil, Albert Snyder."

Mrs. Snyder wasn't herself at the Thirgen party, (a neighbor's house party).

"Give me drinks to Al," she said. And Albert got them.

"At five minutes to two they went home."

"Gray was still waiting in that dark room."

"Mrs. Snyder and Lorraine went in first. She put the girl to bed in her room."

SEARCH BEING MADE FOR ZANESVILLE RESIDENT

Prominent Ohio Mason Reported To Have Planned Trip to Marion

Columbus, April 25.—With Safety Director McCann, personally directing the search here for Charles S. Hoskinson, 45, missing Zanesville business man, and past grand master of the Ohio Grand Lodge of Masons, detectives today reported little success.

Reports from Elmira, N. Y., received here and at Zanesville, are that Hoskinson was seen there last Thursday.

Hoskinson was last seen by his family at Elmira, near here, April 19, when he came to Columbus and his family returned to their home, where their automobile developed engine trouble. Hoskinson presumably was to make a trip to Columbus, Mansfield and Marion.

Masons of Marion and the central states generally are assisting in the search, as Hoskinson was a thirty-third degree Mason and was well known as the result of his Masonic work and travels.

The family, according to Zanesville reports, has received a message from the missing man, since his disappearance but has withheld the contents of the letter, said to have been postmarked "Columbus."

COOLIDGE TO ATTEND UNITED PRESS BANQUET

President To Deliver Principal Address at Affair in New York

Washington, April 25.—President and Mrs. Coolidge left here today at noon today for New York, where, tonight, the executive will deliver the principal speech at the banquet commemorating the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the United Press.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were Col. C. A. Cheney and Captain Wilson Brown, military and naval aides. Major J. C. Campbell, the presidential physician. Secretary Everett Sanders and the usual secret service operatives. The party will return to Washington immediately after the dinner.

LITTLE ROWING

Many years ago rowing flourished at numerous Eastern colleges where it no longer figures among the college athletic activities. In the early '70s crews were maintained at more than two dozen colleges, whereas a dozen make up the list today. Names once familiar in college rowing circles but now no longer heard include those of Hamilton, Dartmouth, Brown, Wesleyan, Williams, Trinity, Amherst and Bowdoin.

BOWLS 300

In a bowling match at Keene, N. H., Earl M. Dushoff, a member of a church team, bowled at even 300 in a match with another church team. The unusual part of his score was that he rolled three 100-point strings to get his 300 total.

After we have borne our own troubles with fortitude we may presume to tell others how to bear theirs.

Miss Marybelle Wallace, above, a senate journal clerk, was shot and killed by Harry Hill, below, a Los Angeles lobbyist, under the dome of the California state capitol at Sacramento. Hill then turned the gun on himself, ending his own life. The shots rang out while the assembly was debating a "wet" and "dry" question.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS INITIATE LARGE CLASS

Candidates from Marion, Delaware and Ada Receive Three Degrees

More than 30 candidates from Marion, Delaware and Ada comprised a class that yesterday received the three degrees of the Knights of Columbus here. The initiation was sponsored by Marion Council, No. 671, and was held in the Elks' Hall, S. Street.

The first degree, at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning, followed ones at St. Mary's Catholic Church. The mass was celebrated by Rev. John T. Hight, assistant pastor, who was a member of the class. First and second degrees were conferred by Marion Council, while the third degree was in charge of William E. Haas of Delaware, state deputy.

A banquet was served to candidates, members and their wives and friends in Schuylers' Hall at 6:30 o'clock. State Deputy Haas was the principal speaker of the evening, while others were Attorney John Maher, district deputy of Greenville; William E. Krupp, district deputy of Fremont; Robert Cardfield, grand knight of Marion Council; and Rev. Father Hannahan, L. A. Ave. district deputy of Marion, acted as toastmaster. The banquet was served by Turfco.

A special meeting, to which newly initiated members have been extended an invitation, will be held in the rooms of Marion Council Tuesday night.

11 ARE KNOWN DEAD IN DISASTER AT DETROIT

Six of 11 Injured May Die; Firemen Pour Water
on Ruins

Detroit, April 25.—With the known dead in the Briggs Manufacturing Co. disaster placed at 11, firemen today continued to pour water into the smoldering ruins of the plant where the bodies of five more employees are thought to be buried.

Six of 11 other severely burned victims have only a slight chance to live, according to receiving hospital doctors. Searchers who dug in the smoking ruins of the plant all day yesterday unearthed only one charred body, which morgue officials were unable to identify. The other victims died of burns in hospitals.

While a squad of 12 foremen was out checking lists of men who were working in the demolished building at the time of the blast, unofficial reports of relatives and friends placed the total of men unaccounted for at nine. It is feared they are buried in the mass of debris, which will make three or four days to sift.

human life for the area from Vicksburg to the scene of the delugebreak at moon's landing alone. If this estimate is correct for Mississippi, more than 250 lives have been lost in the floods.

Five thousand of the 15,000 population of Greenville were still on the water-soaked city today with a prediction that three feet of water will be added to the depth of the flood waters. More than 10,000 Misses, mostly negroes, still were on the Greenville levee today, awaiting transportation to Vicksburg for safety.

HOOVER FEARS FOR NEW ORLEANS

Knoxville, Tenn., April 25.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover, beginning today an inspection tour of the flood stricken area, expressed concern over the safety of New Orleans, where the angry waters of the Mississippi River are three and one-half feet above normal flood level.

The present river stage there is reported at 207 feet, with the water still rising. The normal flood level is 17 feet. The highest in history there was 212 feet in 1927. If persisting works around the city go down, Hoover fears that New Orleans may suffer disastrously.

Hoover, sent by President Coolidge to the flood region to perfect relief organization in cooperation with the Red Cross, is accompanied by Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of arms engineers. The section from Vicksburg to New Orleans, a distance of 300 miles, is causing considerable concern. It is in this section that the hardest task confronts the Red Cross in caring for refugees. Armed guards are controlling the danger points in this area.

After conferring at Memphis with Henry M. Baker, director of Red Cross relief work, Hoover and Jadwin will start a tour of the Mississippi.

LOCAL WOMAN'S FATHER DIES IN HARDIN COUNTY

John C. Jones, 82, Claimed at Home Near Mt.
Victory

John C. Jones, father of Mrs. C. H. Jones, 1245 E. Center st., died at 12:30 o'clock this morning at his home, three miles north of Mt. Victory. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Mr. Jones had resided in Hardin County all his life and was one of the oldest agriculturists in that part of the county. Had he lived until June 1, this year, he would have been 83 years of age. Mr. Jones was a Civil War veteran.

Surviving with the widow are six daughters, Mrs. Bever, this city; Mrs. Home Harvey and Mrs. Jesse Hales, of Lexington; Mrs. Howard Lindell, of Bialaha; Miss Elsie Jones, of Kenton; and Miss Olive Jones, at home, and one son, T. T. Jones, of near Hodgdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and daughter Helen, went to Mt. Victory this morning.

FRED W. WARNER GOES TO CLEVELAND FOR DINNER

Fred W. Warner, local attorney who is chairman of the Ohio Republican Central Committee, went to Cleveland today to be a guest at a dinner to be given by Mrs. Elizabeth C. T. Miller, president of the Republican Women of Ohio, at her studio on Englewood tonight. He was accompanied by Mr. Warner, who will also attend the dinner.

Prominent Republican women from various parts of Ohio are to be present, including Mrs. Wilton St. Clair LeVan of Strasburg, Ohio's woman member of the National Republican Committee.

DE MOLAY PLAY WILL BE GIVEN AT GRAND TONIGHT

The first performance of the play, "Captain Applejack," being presented under the auspices of Marion Chapter of DeMolay, and direction of Miss Lucile Foreman, dramatics instructor at Harding High School, will be given at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the Grand Theater.

According to those who have witnessed previous of the play, it promises to be one of the most successful ever presented by the DeMolays, rivaling even the mystery play, "The Thirteenth Chair," which they presented last year.

WILLIS VISITS HERE

Senator Frank B. Willis was a guest at the home of Harry E. Elliott, 229 Parkfield for a short time this morning, enroute to Detroit. Senator Willis and Mr. Elliott were classmates at school in Galena. Mr. Elliott is quite ill at his home.

AUDITOR TO DISTRIBUTE COUNTY FUNDS TUESDAY

Municipal, Township and School District Treasurers
To Receive Checks

Distribution of funds from the commonwealth Marion County tax collection will be made to the various taxing subdivisions tomorrow. County Auditor Earl L. Thomas stated today, checks in the office are making out checks for the various subdivisions for payment before May 1 and all municipal, township and school district treasurers have been notified to call for the checks this week.

The tax settlement is ordinarily made on March 1 but was delayed this year by the work of reconstructing real estate in the villages and rural districts. As a consequence of this delay, distribution of funds is being made at the latest date in the history of the county.

Advance payments made to various districts have prevented the delay from hampering operations of schools and municipalities.

PARENTS OF SCOUTS ARE GUESTS AT BANQUET

Members of Troop No. 9 Sponsor Affair at Lee-st
Church

Thirty-three fathers and mothers of members of Troop No. 9 of the Boy Scouts were present at the banquet given to these fathers by their sons in the basement of the Lee-st Presbyterian church, Saturday night.

The scouts were in full charge of the banquet, the four packs being Ivan Thron, Paul George, Tom Minsal, and Paul Sunday. They were under the direction of Asst. Scout Master L. D. Kellogg.

Arthur Blair, chairman of the troop committee, acted as toastmaster of the occasion. Rev. James M. Fisher of the Lee-st Presbyterian Church gave an address. Clyde Tumbleson and Mr. Kellogg also spoke. George Robert Ayers and Jacob Moore were the chief entertainers of the occasion, taking charge of the parents before the banquet.

It is planned to give a banquet of this nature each year.

Daily Proverb: "Easy to keep the castle that was never besieged."

You never can tell what a generation will bring forth, particularly one possessed of suddenly-acquired riches.

"Save the Symphony" advises the St. Louis Globe-Democrat in an editorial head.

So many explain why the broadcasters are giving us so much jazz.

We never expect to see a "Society of the Descendants of the Bootleggers of the Twenties." It would hardly be sufficiently select to appeal to people of their probable wealth and social position.

Somebody should tell Mr. McAdoo that the letter business in a presidential primary campaign is a lot like a lallapalooza in that it can be worked effectively but once.

There is just naturally bound to be a degree of weakness in the American jury system so long as attorneys insist that only those who do not think shall have places in the jury box.

A woman reporter says the legs of a New York woman being tried for the unusually brutal murder of her husband are youthful and shapely, which may be taken to indicate that they look like an aqueduct.

"France Pays $165,000,000 to Britain in War Advances," reads a headline. It Britain doesn't watch out France will be having her next. The French are awfully sensitive about the matter of paying debts.

While we hard-working spreaders of joy and sunshine in paragraphs are recognized as holders of great earned wealth, we can not recall one who has ever turned the handling of a million-dollaribel suit against him over to a secretary while he went dithering around.

A Columbus girl tells a newspaper down there that she feels that she has a talent as a story writer. It hasn't any other failing, she may consider herself pretty close to normal.

Isn't there danger that the association of Governor Al Smith's name with that of anything so high-brow as the Atlantic Monthly is liable to alienate from him the support of his constituency?

The representative of a big New York banking concern told Philadelphians that a commission should be sent to Russia "to discuss recognition by this country with the soviet government;" that American capital was needed there, which comes close to explaining a lot of American friendship for soviet Russia. In other words, the representative in question let the cat out of the bag.

It's About the Limit.

That there is no accounting for the vagaries of college youth has long been recognized, but perhaps the most freakish whim which has developed in an Ohio college in years is that brought to general public notice by Dean C. W. Nichol, of Oberlin, in explaining before the convention of college deans assembled in Atlanta why automobiles have been barred from the college campus by the Oberlin college authorities.

We can not do better than use Dean Nichol's language in making the thing plain to our readers. He said:

"An obsession for owning antique chariots swept the campus like the craze for the loose hanging sock. As a result, the four-wheel wrecks broke down on week-end trips and made the students days late in returning to their classes.

"The time they should have been studying, students spent tinkering with their rattling little cars, so Oberlin finally decided to bar the use of automobiles by students.

"This desire to own a dilapidated Lizzie became such a mania that I have known of cases where students actually battered the fenders and body of new cars to make them conform to the rakish, fender-flapping brothers of the campus.

"We had little trouble with wild automobile parties. It was the wasted time element which caused us to bar automobiles."

Smashing up new cars for the sake of a tad? Can you beat it? But, after all, isn't it typical of college youth in pursuit of a tad? And what an almost endless stream we have had of them! There was the dinky cap, and then the wide, daring western senatorial head-covering. The short hair, the long locks and the head practically hairless to above the tops of the ears and the mop on top. We have seen trousers skin tight and again as big as grain sacks. Again we have viewed such a variegated array of colors and shades in sweaters as would draw tears of envy from a northern Minnesota lumberjack. Now there is a trend toward sleeveless Jerseys, knickerbockers, flashy hose and sleepless ties—a reflection of the growing popularity of golf, possibly—and youth is going about hatless. O, there have been a thousand and one of such fads and there will be thousands of them to come, for the spirit of youth is eternal, but our college boys of the future will have to go some to surpass the battering up new cars to make them look like old, simply and purely to conform to the prevailing fad of the day.

Notable Work of Restoration.

The cathedral of Rheims, historically as well as architecturally notable among the great ecclesiastical structures of the world and incomparably the largest and finest of the church edifices either destroyed or badly damaged during the World war, is to be consecrated anew May 26, having been as nearly restored to what it was before the war as the skilled artisans of today could match or duplicate the work of the original builders softened by the action of the elements during the passing centuries.

Almost all the Christian world was shocked by what was held to be the ruthless shelling of Rheims cathedral, and almost all the Christian world has contributed to its restoration John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was the largest individual contributor, but practically every tourist who visited Rheims made an offering, and it is said that the total of the contributions received was enough to meet the restoration cost twice over.

As a matter of fact, the work of bringing the exterior of the cathedral back to its former beauty and grandeur was not so mighty an undertaking as generally believed. The walls and the two great towers were not so badly damaged by shell fire as to make accurate and artistic restoration impossible. The beautiful facade, held to be the finest produced in the Middle ages, with almost innumerable statues and carvings of such excellence as to stand comparison with the best classical work, was somewhat disfigured, but not ruined. The superb glass, much of it of the thirteenth century, was removed to a place of safety as soon as it was known that churches and cathedrals were being made targets of the guns of the oncoming enemy, and had it not been for the burning of the wooden structure placed about the north and west sides and the rear of the cathedral, against which to pile protecting bags of sand, much of the damage done to them would have been averted.

Why the Germans made targets of churches has never been definitely determined. They claimed that the towers of churches and cathedrals were used for observation purposes and signaling. Such structures stood high above other buildings and thus made excellent targets. The enemy probably figured that any shell dropped in their vicinity was liable to produce the terror they sought to create, if not the havoc they may have sought to inflict. And then there was the psychological effect upon the French. The French are great church builders. When they start a town, the site of their church is first selected and then they build about it. As the town grows to sufficient size to support it, a cathedral is erected. This was true, at least, back in the Middle ages, when cathedral building was at the zenith. The Germans probably realized this great respect had by the French for their cathedrals and churches, and may have shelled them for the effect of the shelling on the morale of the French people. No matter what the reason, throughout the areas of France devastated during the war, living in proximity to a church was ultra-hazardous.

And no matter what the impelling motive leading to the destruction or the damage done, in the case of Rheims cathedral the marks left by the war have been as nearly removed and the structure as nearly restored to its former glory as an architectural achievement as is humanly possible and today it stands once more as the most beautiful example of pure Gothic church construction known.

Christian zeal has overcome at least one of the great architectural tragedies of the war.

And speaking of the influence the development of the movies has had on what is today called now, a great press association feels that it is justified in carrying the information that Pola Negri and Prince Serge Mdivani, who are aboard the Aquitania in mid-ocean, have sent back a radio gram that they will be married in France, May 5. And to think it was but so short a time since that Pola's press agent told us about the costly and beautiful raiment she had purchased in which to mourn the late Rudolph Valentino!

"I see that Washington is trying to land the Democratic national convention," remarked the fellow who lives next door on the way down town this morning. "Well, there's this to be said for Washington as the convention city; it would get the candidate closer to the White House than they usually get."

Three hundred and fifty couples entered a dance marathon and ten couples were still in it when it was declared off at the end of twenty-one hours. No wonder the outside world is inclined to look upon us as queer!

And to think that all those cutting passages between Mr. Reed and Mr. Sapiro will have to be undergone again by newspaper readers. The least Mr. Ford could do as a humane man and the great friend of the plain people would be to pay over the million and rely for recompense upon the gratitude of a sorely-tired public.

Poems That Live.

THE CHILDREN AND SIR NAMELESS.

Sir Nameless, once of Athelthall, declared,

"Those wretched children romping in my park

Trample the herbage till the soil is bare,

And yelp and yell from early morn till dark;

Go, keep them harnessed in their set routines;

Thank God, I have none to hasten my dears;

For green remembrance here is better means

Than observing, who but wish their sties away."

Sir Nameless of that mission said anon:

"To be perpetuated for my nightingale

Scythians must imagine me when I am gone."

He forthwith called an architect express

To him a house stretching seven odd feet

For he was full in alabaster stone,

With shield, and crest, and ruff, and sword,

Complete.

When done, a wonder word was never known.

Two hundred years lived, church restorers came.

And no one of his lineage being traced

They thought an eel was large in frame

Best tried for the floor. There it was placed.

Under the seats for school children. And they kicked out his name, and bob-nailed off his nose.

And, as they pawn through sermon time they say:

"Who was this old stone man beneath our toes?"

KING GEORGE RECEIVES THE NEWS OF THE CHICAGO ELECTION.

Influenza Requires After-Care.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

As I write, there is less news about another epidemic of influenza in Ireland. All through the past winter we have heard of such epidemics in parts of Europe and in some American cities.

Of course, we are never free from influenza. In every community there will be occasional cases. Fortunately for us, it is only now and then that the disease becomes epidemic. Not since 1918 have we had the horrible spread of what became a very fatal ailment.

In my social contacts during the past season, I have found a number of my friends seriously ill with the disease. When once it is seated in a home, almost all of the rest of the household will take it. There may be a difference in the severity of the symptoms, but in every instance the true nature of the ailment is recognized.

It is difficult to get up from influenza. Even though the attack may be mild, with short duration of the fever, there may be such involvement of the bronchial tubes as to require a long period of after care to get rid of it.

Sometimes it is the nervous system that suffers. Great weakness and even prostration are not unusual. You feel "weak as a cat" and incapable of carrying on your usual duties.

Three things are essential to complete recovery: They are fresh air, sunlight and proper feeding.

Unfortunately for the human family we can not control the amount of sunlight. But, what is worse, is neglect to avail ourselves of it when it is within reach.

The time will come, I believe, when the window glass of up-to-date homes will be of a kind which permits the ultra-violet rays to pass. The glass used now, filters out these rays and "denatures" the sunlight.

Get out in the direct rays of the sun all you can, all the time, but after influenza it is vitally important to do it. Wrap up, if need be, but expose as much of the body as you can with safety.

Each air you can have day and night. Make it the rule to provide for it.

The simple foods, like eggs and milk are called for after influenza. I like to add gelatin to the milk—a teaspoonful added to the glass of milk will do much to restore vitality. Repeat this feeding, every two or three hours.

Be sure to follow these simple rules. They will help to put you back on your feet. They are good rules to follow after any debilitating illness.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

B. A. Q.—How can I reduce my jaws—they are too large?

A.—See a plastic surgeon.

A. W. V. S. Q.—What can I do for enlarged pores?

A.—For this condition I would suggest that you apply hot and cold compresses, alternately for fifteen minutes, night and morning.

H. M. G. Q.—What should a woman weigh who is forty-one years old and five feet one and one-fourth inches tall?

A.—What should a woman's blood pressure be who is forty-one years of age?

A.—For her age and height she should weigh about 130 pounds.

2.—About 140.

H. E. C. Q.—What do you advise for pimples?

A.—Correct the diet, by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee. But simple food. Send self-addressed stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

L. C. H. G. Q.—Have had trouble with my left heel for about four months. It has been treated in various ways, and thought to have been caused by an inward stone bruise. What would you advise?

A.—May be due to a rheumatic condition or neuritis. Application of heat may be helpful until the exact cause has been determined, and then further treatment may be advised. For full particulars send self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

S. H. Q.—What is the cause of a person biting his finger nails?

A.—This is due to nervousness. Paint the nails with a mixture of acetone. This will help to break one of the habit.—Copyright, 1927.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medicinal, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it can not be published in this column, Dr. Copeland will, when the question is a proper one, write you personally if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. Royal S. Copeland, in care of this office.

For evil doers shall be cut off; but those that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the earth.—Psalm 37:9.

Prayer.—O Lord, we asked life of Thee and Thou gavest it to us, even length of days forever and ever, eternal life.

Editorial Comment.

"WARY" POLITICIANS.

A characteristic Washington dispatch states that Governor Smith's article produced "a profound impression" at the capital. Yet almost no public man could be got to say anything about it. They were evidently both startled and scared by it, but would make no comment for publication. Apparently they were too deeply moved for utterance. Politicians who are the most easily trapped by interviewers and who are freely vocal on all subjects "brought to their attention" were silent about the Smith letter. The explanation given is that they are naturally "wary." This is another way of saying that politicians are a timid folk, that they do not know their own minds, and that they wait for large and visible results before daring to say that this is just what they expected. They are profoundly impressed, but can not state what it is that impresses them, or what they think will be the consequences.

This rabbit-like, or sheep-like, quality is not confined to Democrats. Republicans in Washington and elsewhere are afflicted with doubts and uncertainties that paralyze their vocal cords. They think furiously, but they scarcely speak at all. Of course, the one subject of their intense interest is President Coolidge's attitude toward a third term. That represents to them the great "if" of the future. If they only knew! Then they could come out and pose as oracles. If the president would only say whether he will or will not run again! But he maintains the obstinate and expensiveness silence. Until he speaks, they can not. Whatever ideas they have are held in abeyance. They use the first to praise courage and directness, but are the last men on earth to exhibit anything of the kind themselves. Such is their trade, however. It appears to be a trade largely in timidity.—New York Times.

Ramsay MacDonald, formerly prime minister of Great Britain, is visiting in America. MacDonald, a member of the British Labor party, astonished the world by proving that the Labor party is not a party of power and not a red party.

He was here twenty years ago. He will find labor in America in much better shape and much higher than he did on his last visit. He will be deeply impressed by the long rows of motor cars standing outside factory doors. In England motor cars are mostly in the hands of the rich.

Churches showed a gain of about a half million members in the United States in 1926. This is a good gain, but not as large as it was the previous year. Whether a church gains in membership depends pretty much on what that particular church has to offer. Few people have to be sold on religion. They are naturally religious. But if the leader of the church—the pastor—has little vision, little magnetism, can not present things in such a way as to convince others of their vitality, the church will not gain. Nothing the matter with religion. Much the matter with some churches.

Director of the New York public library says authors study newspapers to get plots. Why not? There are more stories in real life than the most brilliant writer can think up. Other writers study newspapers in order to prepare histories and biographies. Imagine your world without newspapers. Twenty Years Ago.

This day was Thursday.

It was decided not to have Saturday half-holidays in the shops to permit employees to see ball games.

Mrs. Clarissa A. O'Flaherty, one of the best-known women in the country, died at her home in LaTue at the age of seventy-four. She left five children, one of whom is Miles Longshore, of this city.

The Star told of the marriage, the day before, of Miss Lucy M. Dunbar and Mr. George C. Dyson, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Linscott, of south State street, the bride being a sister of Mrs. Linscott. Rev. George M. Rourke was the officiating minister.

The Star noted that forty-six years before K and H companies of the famous Fourth Ohio infantry left Marion for the front.

The Star reported the birth of a son, the day before, to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Volk, of south Main street.

The account of the first practice game of the season, the day before, was carried by the Star. Wilmet pitching for the Veterans won from the Colts by a score of fifteen to eight.

The Star carried a belated story of the celebration of the eighty-fourth birthday anniversary of Mrs. E. L. Everett, the preceding Monday.

Mrs. Miriam Gray, aged sixty-seven, wife of Joseph Gray, died at her home on Windsor street.

Nick Her returned home after a successful season with Al. G. Field's minstrel company.

Mrs. Charles S. Burkholder, of Pittsburgh, was a guest at the T. P. Wallace home on Delaware avenue.

Mrs. Elson Helwig was installed as president of the Epworth Women's Home Missionary society.

Rewards were offered for the first home run made in a scheduled game by a member of the local team. H. R. Stoll was to give a pair of Newton shoes worth $5.00 at that time; H. N. Pierson, a pair of trousers; Louis Goldberg, five dollars in cash, and O. J. Comer offered a prize, but only "Pock" knew what it was to be.

The estate of the late Josephus Goodnow was being divided, all the heirs sharing in the division.

O. W. Johnston, a former Marion boy, was appointed superintendent of the Northern division of the Wisconsin Central railroad. Orlando, by the way, was one of the members of the famous original Marion Stars, the baseball team on which John Darnody made the first triple play unassisted.

The Star told of a suicide, the night before, of James Leeds, in the city prison.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS.

In the night clubs and swell restaurants of New York, the folks talk over their family affairs between drinks. They say the atmosphere is just right, when the shooting ain't going on, for such discussions. Of course the couples are kinda mixed up, and late in the morning a lady is often offering a divorce to a guy that she never seen before, but her intentions is good, and everybody kinda excuses the mistake.

Now, some fellow told me he seen a guy and his wife sitting together at one table, sorta early in the night. I don't know how that happened, but this is a truthful bird that told me about it, and I reckon it ain't a fake.

The woman says: "So I'll go down to Mexico and get the divorce, if you'll pay my expenses down there and back and give me a hundred thousand bucks besides. Mexico is the best, because I want to get married right away again."

"All right," says the husband, "but who are you marrying so quick?"

"I dunno."

"Well, I tell you, I'll make it twice the all-moody and give you plenty of dough for the Mexican trip, if you'll promise to marry nobody but Jack Bingles. You can get him easy, with all that dough."

"Sure I can get him, but what's the big idea? What's it to you what I marry?"

"Well, you see, this here guy cheated me in a game of poker last week, and I'm going to get even with him somehow."—Copyright, 1927.

Kroehler Nameplate on Every Piece

The big Six Day Sale started off this morning. Hundreds have stood in amazement in front of our window to watch us abuse a Kroehler. We're trying our level best to break down just an ordinary Kroehler Davenport. We'll do it, too, if such a thing is possible. We don't care—it won't be our loss—Kroehler says the Davenport will stand up under the abuse—if it don't—it's his loss. If we don't break it down in this test that's being made right before your eyes—why—then that's the kind of suite for you to buy—a Kroehler.

Run Down and See This Demonstration Only a Kroehler Suite Could Stand Up Under Such Abuse

This week you may buy just such a Kroehler suite at way, way down prices—lower than you would expect to pay for just an ordinary Living Room Suite. Special low prices—just this week—easiest possible terms—and a great big, immense assortment to choose from. The biggest display you ever saw in Marion. In a Kroehler Davenport or Chair the springs are supported on a steel under-structure—similar in design to a fine box spring. This is the most modern development in upholstered furniture. Ordinary furniture has cloth or burlap strips that tear loose from the frame and involve expensive repairs; but Kroehler Furniture keeps its shape permanently. It gives you the permanency of metal and the resiliency of finely tempered steel. Kroehler Furniture retains its beautiful lines and luxurious comfort for years.

GOLD type embracing the walls and baskets of roses and spring flowers arranged a lovely setting for the musical bridge and tea given by members of the Senior Lecture-Recital Club Saturday afternoon at Schwingers. Completing the decorative note was a table in the center of the hall on which was a may pole entwined in streamers of pastel shades and the gaily-tied bridge awards, gifts to the club from a number of the active club members. A carpet of grass, adding a touch of vivacious to the center of the hall, completed the decorative effect.

The affair was one of the loveliest and most brilliant social events of spring and was most artistically and credibly carried out by members of the committee with the cooperation of the active club members. Forty-nine tables were filled for cards, awards going to the high score at each table. About $125 was realized by the club. Following the cards tea was served.

At 2 o'clock the guests were entertained with a delightful program of vocal and instrumental numbers by a number of out-town artists. Mrs. Colin Rosenthal, of Columbus, contralto, pleased with a trio of vocal numbers, including "Habanera" from Carmen, "Frühlingssong" by Becker, and "Mexican Love Song" by LaFarge. Mrs. Rosenthal is a former student of Cecil Fanning, Columbus, and for two years studied with Mme. Lelia Litvinne, former prima donna of the Paris Opera, in Paris.

Thomas Faulkner, who will be a senior next year at Ohio Wesleyan University, presented his ability as an artist in his delightfully artistic rendition of "The Greeting, Ye Ladies," Grieg, a group from Tarrasus, Franz Schubert, "Gründlin' Witch," John Duke, and "When I Was a Little Tiny Boy," Peter Heise. Mr. Faulkner is a pupil of Professor De Bouzard, Ohio Wesleyan. Local admirers will be pleased to learn he is giving a student recital May 12 at Sunborn Hall, Delaware.

Charles H. Line, Richard W. Horn and Theodore C. Schafer, of Galton, members of the Harmony Trio, opened the program with a group of instrumental numbers including "The Old Refrain," Kreider, "Spanish Dance," No. Two, Opus No. 12, Moszkowski and "Londonderry Air," Kreider. These as well as the numbers played during the ten hour were a pleasing part of the afternoon's program. Mr. Line, Mr. Horn and Mr. Schafer are students in the Union High School and are among the talented musicians in the younger musical circle of that city.

Birthday Dinner at Stiller Home

CHURCH ELECTS

Pastor To Install Officers of First Reformed Church

H. W. Kunkle was re-elected after for a term of three years at the annual meeting of members of the First Reformed Church, held during the church hour yesterday morning. E. L. Cleveland, Elmer Finch and John Hoffman were re-elected deacons and E. Harold Klingel was elected to serve in that capacity for a term of two years. Clarence Coleman was re-elected a trustee for three years and Stephen Seibert was elected a trustee for two years. Officers will be installed by the pastor, Rev. Herbert F. Weckmüller, at the services next Sunday.

Report from the various officers were given and Rev. Weckmüller gave a report on the statistics of the congregation, showing a membership of 390 active members. S. H. Koller, chairman of the building fund committee reported everything in regard to the erection of the new church to be progressing splendidly. Other reports showed the affairs of the church to be in good condition.

Mrs. M. McKinstry Surprised on Birthday

MANY VISITING PASTORS FILL LOCAL PULPITS

Dr. Charles L. Zorbaugh, Co-lumbus, Preaches at First Presbyterian Church

An unusually large number of local church pulpits were filled by visiting pastors yesterday in the absence of the regular ministers.

Dr. Charles L. Zorbaugh, of Columbus, executive secretary of the Synod of Ohio in the First Presbyterian Church, conducted two services at First Presbyterian Church yesterday, both of which were well-attended. Dr. Zorbaugh preached at both services. In the morning Mr. Karl W. Schell sang a vocal solo, "Oh Love That Will Not Let Me Go" by F. Flaxington Barker, while last night Mrs. B. L. Wallace was heard in a vocal solo, "Oh Master Let Me Walk with Thee" by Spence.

The quartet, composed of Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Schell, Harwood Taylor and V. C. Smith, sang, "Eternal God So Loved the World" at last night's services. Sunday services at Calvary Evangelical Church were in charge of Rev. E. A. Tovey pastor of the Evangelical Church at Circleville, in the absence of Rev. Clinton L. Allen who is convalescing from a recent illness. At the morning service Reverend Tovey discussed "The Great Love of God" while in his sermon on the subject, "The Great Transformation" preached last night, he pointed out the fact that the Lord was "responsible for all things new." Special numbers by the choir and male chorus were heard at both services. Rev. E. A. Bailey of Mansfield will conduct services at Calvary Church next Sunday.

Wesley M. E. Services
Rev. J. W. Clutter, pastor of the M. E. church at Lakeside, preached on the subject, "The Attraction of Things Given" at the morning service yesterday at Wesley M. E. Church while Roy Kauble filled his pulpit at Lakeside preaching on the subject, "Whither Goest Thou?" The service last night was in charge of Dr. J. D. Darling, pastor of the church, who is recovering from a nervous breakdown. Dr. Darling preached on the subject, "The Judgment" taking as his text, Matthew 25, verses 31 to 46. At Prospect Street M. E. Church yesterday, Miss Susie Kneitzer, deaconess and preceptor at the Dorcas Institute, Cincinnati, preached at both services, in the morning on the subject, "Life Service" and last night on the subject, "The Value of Individuality," explaining the value of individuality in the general life program of life. Mrs. John Schweinfurth and daughter, Vesta Mae sang a duet at the morning service with Miss Mary Ellen Keer playing their accompaniment on the organ. Services were fairly well-attended.

Miss Kneitzer also preached on the subject, "The Value of Individuality" at a service yesterday afternoon at the Zion Church on the Marion Circuit.

Episcopal Rites
In the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. E. Hull of Mechanicsburg, conducted services yesterday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Rev. S. S. Hardy of Gonderich Ont., who recently accepted the rectory of the church, will take up his duties there next Sunday.

Reverend Hull has preached here a number of times during the past few months as the church has been without a pastor since last fall. His sermon yesterday dealt with the value of belief in the resurrection.

Under the direction of Mrs. Mary Lou Henderson of Zanesville, revival services at African Methodist Church are continuing with renewed interest. A prayer service was held there yesterday morning and a revival service last night, at which time Mrs. Henderson discussed "Consider the Ways" At the family night service last night she will preach on the subject, "A Charge To Keep."

MORE THAN 400 ATTEND SHOVEL DINNER-DANCE

Event Is Held in Recreation Hall at Plant; Closes Season's Festivities

More than 400 employees and guests of the office department of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. enjoyed the dinner and dance held Saturday night in the recreational hall at the plant.

The hall was attractively decorated in vivid crepe paper streamers and a curtain of the gaily-colored streamers formed a curtain surrounding the tables arranged for supper following the dancing. Hood's Original Knights, of Columbus, played the dance program.

The social, which was the first to be held by the office employees, marked the close of festivities held by members of the various departments in the recreational hall this season. Equipment and a part of the furnishings will be moved to the athletic field for the summer activities.

"THE CHEERFUL FRAUD"

A UNIVERSAL PICTURE DE LUXE

WED.-SAT., APRIL 27-30 THE GRAND THEATRE

CONTEST CONDITIONS

Mary Wise decided to go to the Grand theatre to see Reginald Denny in his greatest picture, "The Cheerful Fraud." She found that the matinee did not start until 2:15 o'clock and that she had time to do some shopping. So she shopped at the Marion stores whose ads appear on this page. In each ad you will find a misplaced capital letter. When you have found all of these see how many words you can make of them, using each letter no more times in each word than it appears on the page, describing Reginald Denny. Such words, for instance, as "Handsome," "Brave," "Noble," etc. Number your words as you write them down and send to the Grand theatre right away. All lists must be in by Wednesday noon. First prize is 15 tickets to Grand, second, 10 tickets, third, 5 tickets. The next twenty longest lists will each receive one ticket to see "The Cheerful Fraud" at the Grand theatre.

Marion Merchants to Award Prizes at Opening Baseball Game Sunday

A TREAT await members of the Marion Athletics' baseball outfit here next Sunday when they back up against Springfield in the first game of the season. Twenty-seven prizes are to be given away for various feats.

Through the excellent work of James Ruzzo, proprietor of the barber shop located at 124 S. Prospect, practically every merchant in Marion has agreed to donate a gift for some purpose. Mr. Ruzzo solicited local merchants who readily consented to giving the prizes.

The gentlemen making the first home run of the season will indeed be fortunate. He will receive a season pass to the bathing pool at Crystal Lake Park, and a glove donated by Sheriff James Deal. In the event that the current cloud goes over the right field fence, the Hildebrandt Sales Co. will present the bat "winner" to the player. If it doesn't travel in that direction, the prize offer stands until someone is lucky enough to sock the pill over the fence in that section of the field.

The player making the first run of the season will receive a box of Webster cigars, donated by the Marion Tobacco Co., immediately after he crosses the plate.

The first hit of the game is worth an umbrella, to be given by the Frank Bros. Co. The first two sacks will bring the hitter a box containing 200 Camel cigarettes donated by the Hotel Marion, and the first triple is good for a Pink inner tube awarded by the Marion Overland Co. and a pair of trousers given by W. C. Phillips of Richmond Bros. Co.

The man who steals a base first will be given a season pass to the Marion Theater, the management having arranged for the pass. A pair of house slippers goes to the man making the first putout. Rosenberg's Shoe Store will make the award.

Here's the Cash

The Midway Lunch will present a cake to the runner counting the most runs, and Long's Shoe Store will reward the best batter with a pair of slippers. The player making the most putouts gets a shaving mug from Spaulding Bros. The Marion Parking Co. will present the player accepting the most chances with a hat.

A purse, given by the Lumbermen's Co., will go to the first successful batter. Warner & Edwards will present a flag to the batter looking out the first sacrifice fly and Snider & Madden will give the player hitting the first fly ball baseball bat.

Rever and Hudson will give a box of cigars to the person catching the first fly and an electric toothbrush lamp goes with the first ground ball caught. The Van Alen Hardware Co. will give the player who hits a home run a hat from Charles E. Smith, clothing, and the first player getting on base will receive a flashlight from the United Electric Co.

The man that steals home will get a hat from Jim Dugan's store and the moundmen pitching the first out hit game of the season will be awarded with a Hornstein-Newman topcoat, given through Jim Dugan. Kleinschmidt Bros. offers a Knott hat to the pitcher delivering the first shut-out game of the year.

The slab artist that can strike out three in one inning get a baseball glove from James Prendergast.

Other Plans

That's the big array of prizes offered by Marion merchants who are back of the Marion Athletics to the basin. The successful season of the local baseball crew last year brought the city hundreds of dollars of free advertising space, bringing in a number of fans from surrounding cities and villages.

It is probable that a speaker will be engaged for the opening day regular big league ceremonies will take place. Further plans for the 1927 year will be made this week and will be announced later.

Football Weather Fails To Ruin Perfect Baseball Practice of Marion Team

Athletics Battle Elements and Go Hot in Snappy Session at Lincoln Park; Daugherty at Third and Merle Morrison at Shortstop Forms New Lineup in Infield

IDEAL football weather yesterday failed to ruin a perfect baseball practice put on by the Marion Athletics at Lincoln Park. The boys went so "hot" that they failed to notice the cold northern blasts accompanied now and then by snow flurries.

The infield at Lincoln Park was in fine shape yesterday and the infielders worked accordingly. "Tommy" Daugherty, holding down third base, swept up grounders on all sides, while Merle Morrison covered the shortstop territory in great style. Dangerously comes from Gallion. He played with the local crew on many occasions last season and, while rather weak at bat, displays a neat brand of fielding. Morrison is a Marion youth who at present is shining in athletics at Ohio Wesleyan.

Bacon at second and Joe Conroy on the initial sack, completed the infield yesterday. Rowan, Reese, Price and Colegrove covered the outfield in big league style. Colegrove looked plenty good.

Main was in the box and looked better than in previous practices. With a few more "warming ups" this week, he will be in fine condition for the opener with Springfield here Sunday. Keller of Lima was on the receiving end yesterday but Bill Harp of Co. Imbabus, has been signed for the season as a catcher and will be on hand next week to strut his stuff behind the bat.

Three more practices are scheduled for the week. The first will come Tuesday night on the Steam Shovel grounds and the second will be held Thursday night. The workouts are booked for 5:35 o'clock. The final workout of the week will be held on the Shovel diamond, Saturday afternoon.

One of the largest crowds in the baseball history of Marion is expected to be on hand for the opener Sunday. Special ceremonies are to be arranged and the city will open the 1927 season in true big league style.

CALVARY EVANGELICALS TO PRACTICE TUESDAY

The Calvary Evangelical Sunday School first and second recreational ball teams will hold their first practice sessions Tuesday night on the diamond at Central Junior High.

TWO ADVANCING CLUBS SURPRISE ALL CONCERNED

St. Louis Cardinals Jump from Sixth to Second Place

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, April 25.—That ambiguity of the ages, bearing on and appertaining to the thought that the first shall be last and the last shall go right to the head of the class, was conceived in the dim, dead past; at any rate, some few years before Hank O'Day was born. It needs was conceived additional substantiation on the ball field during the week ending April 24.

Three clubs were pleased to make definite gains during the period in question and two of them were the Phillies and St. Louis Browns, who were expected into the cellar by all concerned and unaccounted weeks before a mayday threw out the first ball or someone threw out the first mayday. The third club to advance perceptibly since Monday last was the St. Louis Cardinals, who, getting the best of nothing from them, St. Louis and Alexander, jumped from sixth to second place with four victories and no defeats.

The other St. Louis club did almost as well, winning four out of five and advancing from fifth to second place. The Phillies won four in six played, but remained, as is, in fifth place, in spite of the fact that, barring the Cardinals, their week's record was the best of any National League outfit.

Only Eight at 500

The trio mentioned and the Tigers, Athletics, Pirates, Giants and Braves, were the only clubs to play better than 500 baseball during the seven days. The Cubs, hitting around .190 as a club and scoring only eight runs in five games, gained only a single decision since last Monday and dropped from fourth to sixth place. The Indians hit a triple better, averaging close to four runs a game, but still were not basted on several occasions and the club won only two out of five. The Reds continued to take first week's record of one win and four lost. They can't seem to hit behind good pitching nor pitch in front of good hitting.

The Dodgers, getting only fair pitching as against the most inept hitting or none at all and an infield defense that couldn't stop a standing army, tossed off four out of five again. Even the Red Sox improved on the Dodgers' record by winning two out of five.

It is well, at that, that the latter were available or the Senators might be as badly off as their list of injuries entitles them to be. Washington broke even in six games but, of their six victories since the opening of the season, at least four have been gained at the Red Sox expense.

Yanks and Macs

The Yanks and Athletics, although playing a series against each other, had much the same record, the Yanks breaking even in six games and the Athletics winning three out of five.

The local entry finished last week without a defeat but in the meantime they lost Pennock and the rest of the staff fell away simultaneously. A slump from the remarkable hitting pace of the first week also did the club practically no good.

The Giants likewise weren't so hot during the seven days. They continued their hitting, except in one game, and won four out of seven but the idea that the Giants were to falter on the week eastern clubs seems to have died a lingering death.

The Pirates enjoyed only a fair week with three out of five, showing a decline from their murderous hitting of the season's first few days. The Braves also kept ahead of the situation with four out of seven, pitching carrying the club. The Phils hit well, as usual, and got fair pitching. Also the club is hustling for Melchior and may yet live to make an awful bum out of this writer, among others. As for the Browns, Lew Hawley admits that he hasn't much but the club is getting him more than a fair return on the investment.

The Tigers, looking good and bad by turns, won three and lost two while the White Sox won only one out of four. They scored plenty of runs but the other team scored more and more and that sort of thing usually ends the discussion.

MARION STARS TO BOWL MANSFIELD TEAM TONIGHT

The Marion Star bowling team will oppose the Mansfield Journalists in a match on the Y. M. C. A. alleys at 7:30 tonight. Two weeks ago the Journalists defeated the Stars on the Mansfield alleys by a total of 78 pins in three games.

Cincinnati Fans Become Disheartened as Slipping Reds Lose Eighth Contest

NEW YORK, April 25.—Support for today with Rogers Hornsby assuming the batting leadership of the National League and Babe Ruth collecting his third home run of the season, Reds was understood to be forthcoming today from Cincinnati, where the fans have become so disheartened that they are beginning to stay away from the ball park in droves.

After a winning effort on Saturday, the Reds lost again to the Cubs yesterday, 5 to 3, and would be in last place today if the pregame forms of the Brooklyn Dodgers were not blocking the other door. The team is not hurt, though, the bulky Adolfo Llopis, 14, again east in the role of lady luck, disappointed savior, and Manager Jack Hendricks has been playing chess with his eight men in field in an effort to find a winning combination. Arthur Nohr, who previously had displayed all the earmarks of a genuine come back, was knocked out of the box yesterday in the first inning.

CHAMBERLIN IS AGAIN HERO AS HE SAVES GIRLS

New York-Paris Plane Landed Safely Despite Broken Wheel

New York, April 25. (AP)—Charles D. Chamberlin, who with Aviator Bert Acosta, recently set a new record for sustained airplane flight, was again a hero today.

Ten minutes after the Wright-Bellanca plane which broke the world's endurance record was christened yesterday for its projected Paris flight, death and disaster threatened.

But a tragedy was averted through the coolings and skill of Chamberlin.

After Elvise Levine, 9, daughter of Charles A. Levine, chairman of the Columbia Aircraft Corp., which built the plane, had broken a bottle of ginger ale over the nose and christened it the "Columbia" at Curtis Field, L. I., Chamberlin reversed the little girl and Grace Jones, 15, daughter of Jacob Jones, president of the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce, with a ride in the air.

As the plane rose, mechanics noticed that the left wheel of the landing gear had broken off.

Immediately another plane flew up alongside the "Columbia" and Pilot Dean C. Smith and Paul Herman, mechanic, gestured to Chamberlin, then held up a wheel to apprise him of the trouble.

Chamberlin then sped to Mitchell Field and slowly descended in long graceful spirals. He shot down the plane's speed to a minimum and tipped it over to the right side. He landed on the right wheel and skidded almost gracefully. When the plane had almost stopped it tipped to the left and damaged side, and stopped, a perfect landing.

The damage to the plane was slight and plans for starting the Paris flight in a few days were not abandoned.

KERENSKY IS SLAPPED AGAIN; MAN IDENTIFIED

Prominent Physician Is Former Russian Premier's Assailant at Banquet

Chicago, April 25. The identity of the man who slapped the face of Alexander Kerensky, former premier of Russia's provisional government, during a banquet last night at the Palmer House, was revealed today.

Dr. Boris Gregory Telesnitsky, prominent South Shore physician and former officer in the czar's army, was the assailant.

The attack on Kerensky, the banquet guest at the Palmer House, threw the dinner-jacketed guests into a riot that for a time threatened to develop into an all-out brawl.

As the former premier was making his way to the banquet table a tall dark man rose from his seat and landed a resounding slap, with his right palm on Kerensky's cheek.

"That's for what you did to the officers of the Russian army," said his assailant.

Several of Kerensky's aides leaped for the man that struck him, but another stranger stood up beside the attacker and together they fought off Kerensky's friends until detectives arrived.

Dr. Telesnitsky was released on his own recognizance. His friend, proved to be Lieut. Serge Busch, also a former officer in the Russian army.

Driven from Russia

"I slapped Kerensky," explained Dr. Telesnitsky, "because I wanted to put some dignified indignity upon him, to insult him in order to call public attention to what he is doing in this country."

"Lieut. Busch and I were driven from Russia with the defeat of the white army. We then said 'Russia is lost—we are men without a country.' We made our way to the United States and made this country our country."

"We saw enough of Kerensky in Russia. He was responsible for the killing and assassination of many Russian officers. He did enough harm to the country that was my country. I don't want him coming here to harm now the country that is my country."

Kerensky refused to prefer charges against Dr. Telesnitsky, and, after order was restored, resumed his place at the banquet table.

Similar Lewis' new novel, "Elmer Gantry," will be reviewed by Dr. U. S. Davis, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, from the church pulpit next Sunday night. It was announced today.

Last night Dr. Davis gave a most interesting review of Bishop E. Stanley Jones' "Christ of the Indian Road," in which he showed that the "trust of the missionary today is to introduce Christ supreme, Christ as the only redemption, and 'Christ the Son of God as the only message.' He also emphasized the fact that, according to Bishop Jones' book, it is the duty of the missionary to teach that it is Christ in the living man and not the church system that constitutes the only difference between a Christ-like nation and a non-Christian nation.

At the morning service he preached on the subject "Clopaphas," which concluded a series of sermons on Biblical characters.

CHILDREN RESPONSIBLE FOR HOME FIRE, BELIEF

Children playing with matches are thought by Fire Chief McFarland to have been responsible for a blaze that destroyed $75 worth of clothing at the residence of Kenneth Allen, 532 E. Superior at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Allen who called the fire department. Burned matches found on the floor provided the clue as to the cause of the fire. Firemen from No. 2 station responded.

DECISION DUE

Judge To Rule in Suit Against General Motors on Infringement Charge

Cleveland, April 25. Judge D. C. Weston today probably will announce his decision early this week in the suit brought against the General Motors Co. by the Swan Carburator Co. of Cleveland, hearing of which was concluded here Saturday.

The Cleveland corporation holds a patent to a manifold which has been used by General Motors in their Buick and Oldsmobile cars.

Recently, however, General Motors has changed the manifold in certain respects and the device, as now used, is not an infringement of the Swan company's patent, according to General Motors attorneys.

HENRY W. SMITH, 75, IS FOUND DEAD IN BED

Rheumatism and Heart Disease Assigned as Cause of Death; Funeral Tuesday

Henry Wellington Smith, 75, carpenter, was found dead in bed at his home, 318 Patton st., early yesterday morning. Mr. Smith had been suffering from rheumatism for about a week and it is thought that the malady affected his heart.

LEGION PLANS DISTRICT DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

Campaign Will Start May 1 and Continue for Two Weeks

Representatives of the American Legion Post, No. 162, of the American Legion, attended a Central Ohio district conference held in Columbus, yesterday, and helped plan a district membership campaign which will start on May 1 and continue until May 11.

Marion's part in the campaign is expected to reach its conclusion the night of May 11 at a public initiation meeting to be attended by Herbert R. McGinnis, Postmaster, state commander of the Legion. A substantial increase in the enrollment is anticipated by the committee in charge, having its hopes on boosting the membership to the highest mark in the history of Post McGinnis.

Four Posts in County

There are four Legion Posts in Marion County, the other three being located at Prospect, LaPorte and Columbus. All will participate in the drive and will be represented at the meeting scheduled for May 11.

Pointing out that the American Legion is designed for general public welfare work, officers here will assist other local organizations to contribute to the success of the membership drive.

The Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs and various lodges will be requested to urge World War veterans on their roll to join the Legion and to include discharges on boosting the membership campaign in the programs at their meetings during the first two weeks of May.

The meeting of the night of May 11 is expected to be one of the largest ever staged by the local Legion Post. Initiation ceremonies will be included in the program.

NOBILS THE STORE OF TRUE BARGAINS

You'll agree — there never has been a washer like the New Sunnysuds. It washes more, washes faster, washes cleaner. It oils itself. No bothersome oiling and greasing before every washing. Its modern steel frame is unmatched in strength and rigidity. Every moving part is enclosed.

For Your Old Wash Board

For a limited time we will accept it as $5 payment on a new Sunnysuds. We do not care what condition the wash board is in. It is worth $5 now.
